Abundance Awaits to Become You. We have been told over and over again: We have less because others have more. If we are materialistic, we can't be spiritual. The rich are the root of all evil. If we are not successful, we are not worthy. Only this way works. Money doesn't grow on trees. What is reality? Is it something outside of us, fixed, dictating the rules of the game, and we either get it right or wrong? Or is reality simply an exact reflection of our individually held beliefs being mirrored right back at us? Imagine, just for a second, you have your very own ATM machine, and that you can withdraw as much money as you need each and every time you visit it. What's more, when you do, others won't have less because of it. Who would you be being, in relationship to money, if that were the case? Money does grow on trees! What are some of the myths you created and live by?
